for Middle and Eastern Europe at SAP

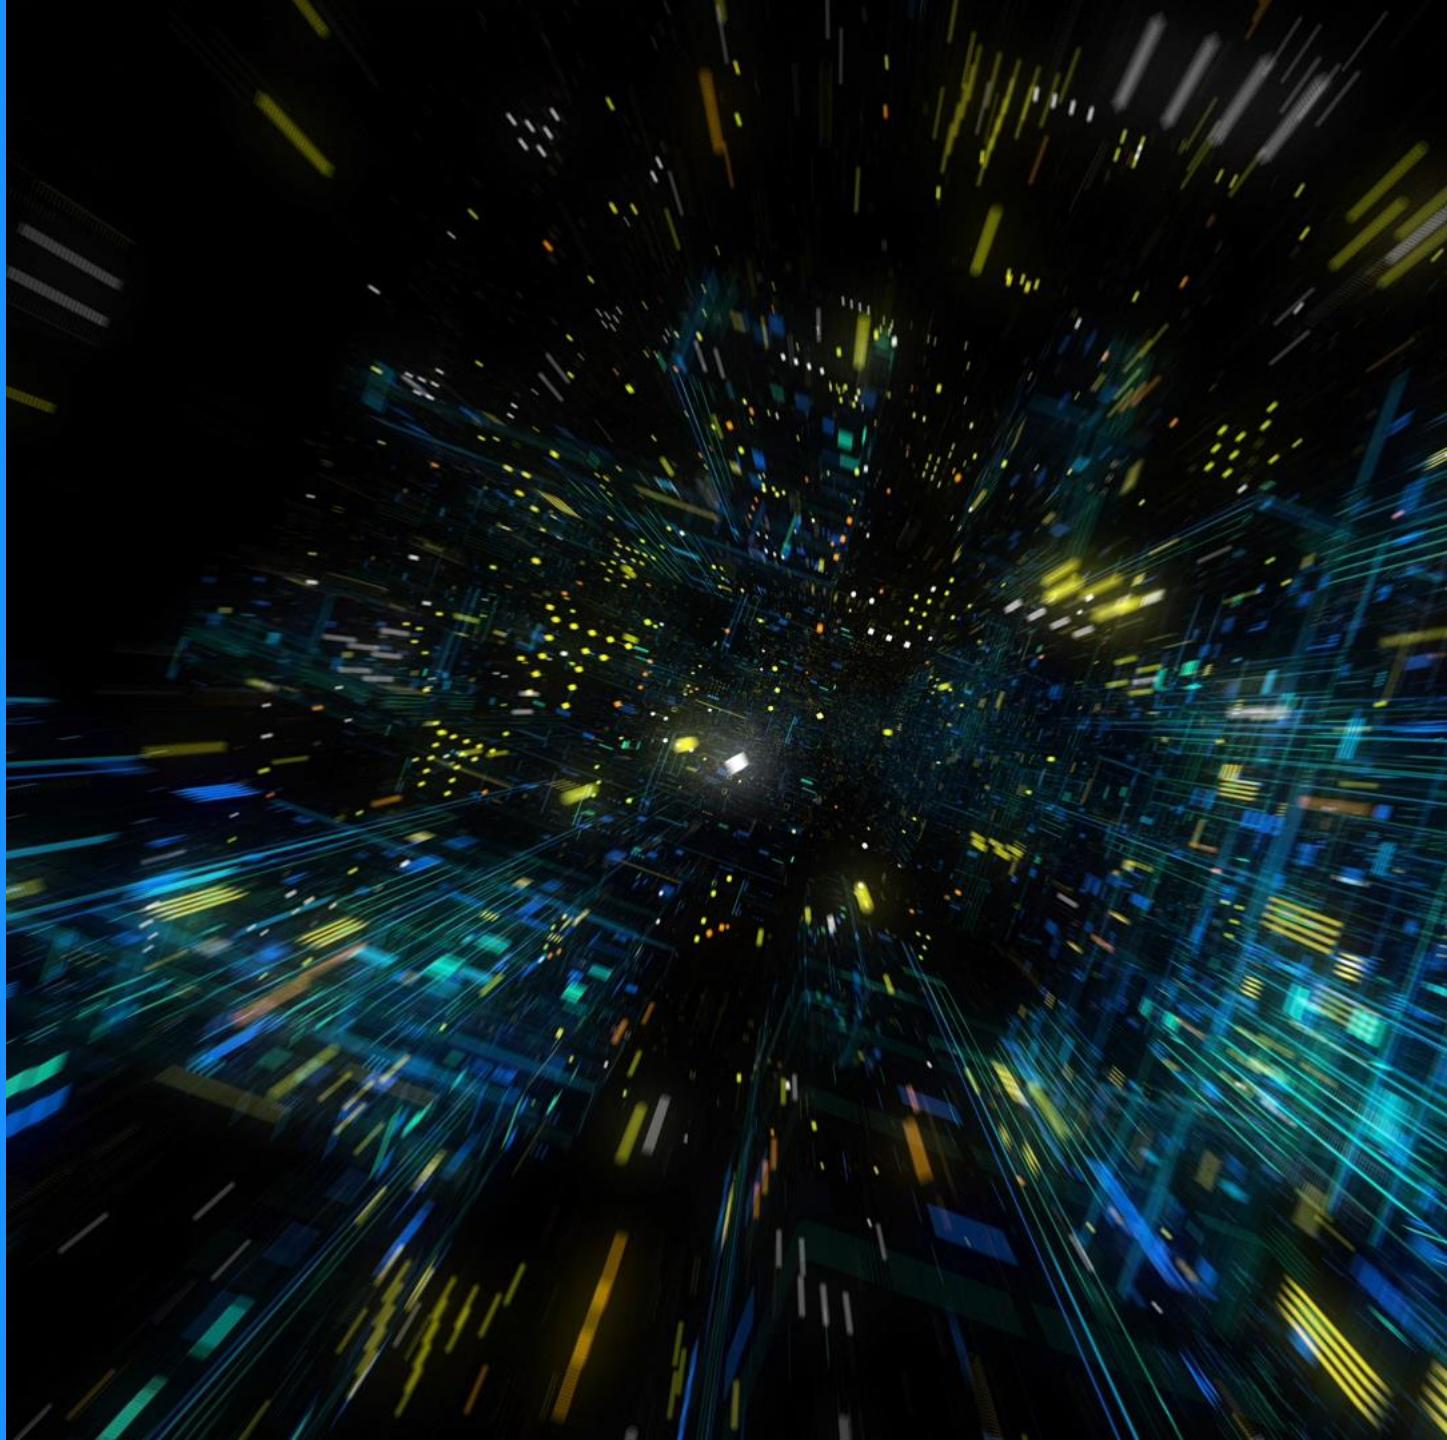

“Data is not
the real value –
value is in what
can be done
with the data.”

Scott Galloway

A close-up photograph of a vibrant pink orchid flower cluster against a dark background. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others still tight buds. The petals have a subtle texture and some darker, velvety areas near the base. A large, solid blue rectangular shape is overlaid on the image, containing the text.
